

Occupancy Storage Buildings

Hazardous Material Storage Buildings

There are many reasons why businesses are incorporating the E.P. Containment System into their responsible hazardous material storage programs. Our products offer the highest quality and the best available technology to provide safe storage of hazardous materials for:

- Regulatory Compliance
- Security
- Secondary Containment
- Limiting Personal and Property Liability
- Employee Protection
- Improved Public Image

E.P. Containment System chemical storage buildings are sized for capacities from 5 through 44 drums, and can be easily customized to your specific needs. Modular construction and riveted design allows us to keep an ample inventory or standard components in stock for quick assembly and delivery to your precise requirements.
